YOUR JOURNEY STARTS HERE

At Pitt Business, we offer an education that takes you From the Classroom, To the City, To the World. We are proud that our students represent a variety of nationalities, ethnicities, cultures, perspectives, talent sets, and life experiences. Recently, Pitt Business was ranked No. 2 among U.S. public schools for the diversity of its students (Poets & Quants).

We believe that embracing diversity is good for business, and that organizations gain a competitive advantage when they entrust leadership roles to a diverse group. Doing so encourages varied viewpoints and innovation, and helps to attract and retain top talent.

The Pitt Business Diversity Success Strategy brings under one umbrella the variety of resources available to promote diversity and to serve students from underrepresented groups. Designed to foster students' academic and professional development, the strategy includes: Programs and Activities, Student Organizations, Academic and Career Advising, and Scholarship Opportunities.

"I love all the opportunities provided to Pitt Business students to develop professionally. From a great range of study abroad programs and locations, to various networking opportunities, Pitt Business has provided many resources to help me thrive in my professional career after graduation."

DIVERSITY PROGRAMS AND ACTIVITIES

Peer Mentoring Program While at the University of Pittsburgh, the Pitt Business Mentoring Match system pairs students with an alumni mentor who can help them navigate their professional path and help them prepare for their career.

Networking Events Students can build their professional network at on-campus recruiting events hosted by employers, and events hosted by Pitt Business and student organizations.

Diversity Partnerships Pitt Business has longstanding partnerships with the National Black MBA Association's Pittsburgh chapter, ALPFA: Building Latino Business Leaders, the National Association of Black Accountants, the Pitt Business Alumnae Network, and many other organizations.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Roberto Clemente Minority Business Association This club is committed to academic excellence, leadership development, diversity, and service to the Pittsburgh community. It hosts an annual professional development conference and networking events throughout the year.

Women in Business This is a social, professional, and community service-based organization focused on the development of young women into business leaders. It offers activities, networking events, and community service events.

Enactus This organization brings together students, teachers, and industry leaders for the shared mission of creating a more sustainable world. Students have traveled to Brazil to complete social entrepreneurship projects.

Socially Responsible Investment Club In this club, students manage a real investment portfolio, while showing concern for the greater good. Students set investing parameters around corporate governance, sustainability, human rights, and community engagement.

Association for Leaders in Diversity and Inclusion This group promotes networking with professionals in Diversity & Inclusion, learning about D&I efforts in the workplace, discussing key issues, and participating in D&I events throughout Pittsburgh.

CAREER AND ACADEMIC ADVISING

Tafel Center for Student Success The center is home to all academic and career advising services at Pitt Business. Its Robert S. McCulloch Family Alumni Networking Zone is a place where students can interact with alumni in person and via video conferencing.

Career and Academic Advising Professional advisors meet face-to-face with students to develop complementary academic and career strategies tailored to their specific professional objectives.

Study Abroad Pitt Business students can study abroad in more than 75 countries, complete international business internships, and study internationally through our Global Business Institute.
